

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY
Professor Eric Foner

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY
620 Fayerweather
Office hours: Tu 2-4

Spring, 2003

History W4551y

SENIOR SEMINAR IN AMERICAN HISTORY

Note: For those weeks when no class session is listed (with the exception of March 13, during the spring vacation), we will be available during class hours to meet individually with students.

Please be sure to refamiliarize yourself with Part III of Wayne C. Booth, et al., The Craft of Research

January 21: Progress reports (Students should be prepared to discuss the research they have done thus far, problems that have developed, and how their conceptualization of the paper may have been modified.)

January 28: Discussion of draft sections handed in before break

February 4: Discussion of draft sections

February 11: Discussion of draft sections

March 11: First draft of entire thesis due in class, plus copies for members of seminar

March 25: Discussion of drafts

April 1: Discussion of drafts

April 8: Discussion of drafts

April 15: Thesis due to UNDED for honors consideration. One page abstract due to Jonathan LeBoeuf in History office for listing in program

April 29: Final draft of papers due (in class).